Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: EP 0 877 309 B1 (CHENG) 2000-06-21 (21-06-2000)
D2: US 6 286 482 (FLINN) September 11, 2001 (11-09-2001)

The claimed and disclosed invention provides a predictive model for controlling a direct injection internal combustion engine torque, power, fuel consumption and cylinder pressure, by calculating and re-calculating the output parameters.

Broad claim 26 claims a method of predicting output data generated by direct injection internal combustion engine, said output data comprising at least one of engine torque, fuel consumption, power and cylinder pressure, selecting an injector geometry, engine geometry, speed and injector command, estimating initial cylinder pressure and initial intake flow, and calculating converged cylinder pressure and converged intake flow.

Document D1 is considered to represent the most relevant state of the art. D1 discloses virtual vehicle sensor simulation models to monitor engine parameters such as in-cylinder pressure and exhaust gas temperature.

Document D1 does not disclose methods of predicting output data generated by direct injection internal combustion engine, said output data comprising at least one of engine torque, fuel consumption, power and cylinder pressure, selecting an injector geometry, engine geometry, speed and injector command, estimating initial cylinder pressure and initial intake flow, and calculating converged cylinder pressure and converged intake flow.

Document D2 discloses a system for effectively controlling the combustion history by providing an active feedback control of the combustion event parameters such as the cylinder pressure.

Document D2 does not disclose methods of predicting output data generated by direct injection internal combustion engine, said output data comprising at least one of engine torque, fuel consumption, power and cylinder pressure, selecting an injector geometry, engine geometry, speed and injector command, estimating initial cylinder pressure and initial intake flow, and calculating converged cylinder pressure and converged intake flow.

Novelty under Article 33(2)PCT

The subject matter of claims 1-46 is considered to be novel under Article 33(2)PCT.

Inventive step under Article 33(3)PCT

The subject matter of claims 1-46 is considered to have an inventive step under Article 33(3)PCT.

Industrial applicability under Article 33(4)PCT

The subject matter of claims 1-46 is considered to have industrial applicability under Article 33(4)PCT.

Certain observations on the international application

The following observations on the clarity of the claims, description, and drawings or on the question whether the claims are fully supported by the description, are made :

On page 6 lines 6-7 the expression " ...includes A method is disclosed ..." constitutes unclear syntax. The disclosure therefore contravenes Article 5 of the PCT.
